Professional Biography

Chris Finck is an associate of Beitler Commercial Realty Services. Joining the firm in June of 2014, he has already made a mark with his passion for negotiating deals and helping clients acquire their perfect space in commercial real estate. With his personal and conscientious attention, Chris has established an excellent track record in consummating transactions to the satisfaction to all parties.

After obtaining his real estate agent license at the age of 18, Chris realized that real estate would be a life-time calling.

In addition to his commitment to Beitler, Chris is completing his Bachelor of Science degree in Integrated Marketing Communications at Pepperdine University. In his (very limited!) free time, Chris enjoys surfing, snowboarding, rock climbing, and designing/modifying cars. In the future, Chris would like to expand his experience and education in the real estate industry, including obtaining a Broker's license and learning more about...
