

David Chatfield

Vice President

Professional Biography

David has called Oregon home for 15 years, relocating from Michigan to work for Amazon.com. As an avid golfer, he spent the last 12 years lending his knowledge and experience as a professional caddie at Bandon Dunes Golf Resort. His course connections landed him a year working for a world-renowned golf resort in New Zealand and also Scottsdale, Arizona. David enjoyed how caddying allowed him to guide his clients to make informed decisions based on the various situations and challenges each game presented.

After graduating from Portland State University in 2014 with a degree in Real Estate Finance, he worked for one of the nation's largest real estate investment brokerages. His detailed and organized mind set drives his success with clients. David's unique skill set allows him to work well with many different types of personalities and abilities. He understands the importance of patience and takes a lot of pride in networking and building...
