

David Spina

Director

Professional Biography

David was born in San Diego, California, and moved with his family to Fort Worth, Texas when he was 13 years old. He graduated high school from Fort Worth Christian and then from Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Oklahoma with a degree in Business Finance. His interest in real estate started in college when he took a real estate course and decided to buy his first single-family rental property. After graduating college, he worked in the financial service industry, focusing on retirement and estate planning. In 2007, David began working with a Texas-based energy retail provider, marketing retail and commercial energy services. During that time, he built a marketing organization of independent consultants that developed over 100,000 energy customers.

In 2018 David became a Texas-licensed real estate agent and founded Cornerstone Community Partners (CCP) - a multi-family investment property business. In 2019, he key principled and...
