Professional Biography

As a Senior Vice President of Office Services for Moody Rabin, Kevin has vast experience and direct responsibilities in marketing and leasing Moody Rabin properties in various Houston submarkets, both suburban and CBD for the past sixteen (16) years. In addition to developing and executing leasing and marketing programs to increase occupancy and add value, he also excels in tenant retention through building relationships and communicating early with renewal tenants and their brokers. Kevin's daily focus is accomplishing the goals of his clients and representing their assets with the highest level of professionalism.
