Professional Biography

Trenton began his sales career in the financial services industry in 2005 as a financial consultant. He diligently assisted his clients in achieving their financial goals by providing strategies tailored to their specific needs for retirement planning, income distribution planning, asset management and risk management. In 2011, Trenton decided to fulfill his interest in Commercial Real Estate and joined Sperry Van Ness. During his 4 years at Sperry Van Ness, Trenton worked closely with owners of multi-tenant retail shopping centers who had interest in buying additional properties or to assist his clients in selling their existing retail investments.

In early 2015 he joined LevRose Commercial Real Estate, where he continues to focus on retail investment sales. Knowing that his client's needs are much greater than investment acquisitions and dispositions, Trenton continues to work closely with other retail specialist that focus on tenant...
