

Spencer Starkey

Senior Associate - Owner Representation

Professional Bio

Spencer Starkey joined Moody Rambin in 2013 as a member of the Owner Representation Team in the Office Services Division. Spencer's primary focus involves marketing and leasing office buildings throughout the Greater Houston area as well as developing and securing new business for the Owner Representation Team.

Prior to joining Moody Rambin, Spencer was an intern with the firm, where he gained experience assisting in all aspects of the company from Property Management to Investment Sales and Leasing. He excels in tenant retention by maintaining a high level of communication with the existing office tenants and their brokers. Spencer's passion for personal interaction and propensity for understanding his clients' needs enables him to consistently and effectively find the ideal real estate solution for his clients' businesses. By staying informed about the dynamic Houston office market, Spencer is able to identify and generate new business opportunities by constantly interacting with owners and maintaining relationships with the industry's top real estate professionals.
